

With football season in full force, we decided what better way to do a gender reveal then the Minnesota Vikings way. Although we live in California, we will always be true Minnesotans, or at least the 5 of us will. We can't speak for baby Nelson #4 who will be the only one of us born in California. We're still not sure how we feel about this so the baby brainwashing must start immediatly. And since Jon is a diehard Vikings fan and there is no changing that, baby Nelson must be too, at least until baby turns 18. So here we go...is Baby Nelson #4 a baby boy or a baby girl? And for those that guessed twins. Nope, that's a different sport, it's not happening here.

The kids decided to have a little fun with the videos, so stay tuned for some fun video outtakes.

We're all very excited, regardless of the gender!

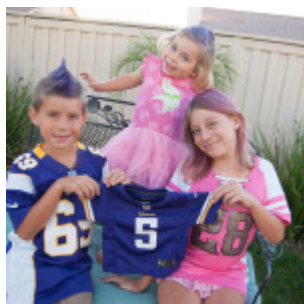

Thanks for watching!
